IAPA Asks Probe of Venezuela Editors' Arrest

NEW YORK, April 27 (UPI) —

The Inter American Press Association has urged Venezuela to expedite an investigation of the arrests of publisher Miguel Angel Capriles and the editors of several of his publications.

The arrests were made April 9, and the Venezuelan Congress has approved them over the protest of the opposition, some of whose deputies claimed there was an insufficient quorum to vote for the permanent session which ratified the government's action.
